How we calculate your balance: We use a method called "daily balance." See your Line of Credit and Security Agreement for more details.

Billing rights: Information on your rights to dispute transactions and how to exercise those rights is provided below with these account-opening disclosures.

Your periodic rate is and the corresponding APR is .

This APR may increase. Your interest rate is determined based on 1-Month LIBOR plus a margin of . Your rate will increase when the 1-Month LIBOR rate increases. Your rate can increase weekly based on increases to the 1-Month LIBOR rate.

We use the Daily Balance Method to calculate your line of credit balance. We figure the interest charge on your account by applying the periodic rate to the "daily balance" of your account each day in the billing cycle. To obtain the "daily balance," we take the beginning balance of your account each day, add any new advances, and subtract any unpaid interest and any payments or credits. This gives us the daily balance.

What to do if you find a mistake on your statement

If you think there is an error on your statement, write to us at:

Supernova Lending
301 W. Grand Ave #180
Chicago, IL 60654

You may also contact us at etradeservicing@supernovacompanies.com.

In your letter, give us the following information:

- Account information: Your name and line of credit account number.
- Dollar amount: The dollar amount of the suspected error.
- Description of problem: If you think there is an error on your bill, describe what you believe is wrong and why you believe it is a mistake.

You must contact us:

- Within 60 days after the error appears on your statement. At least three business days before an automated payment is scheduled, if you would like to stop payment on the amount you think is incorrect.

You must notify us of any potential errors in writing or electronically. You may call us, but if you do, we are not required to investigate any potential errors and you may have to pay the amount in question.

What will happen after we receive your letter

When we receive your letter, we must do two things:

1. Within 30 days of receiving your letter, we must confirm that we received your letter. We will also tell you if we have already corrected the error.
2. Within 90 days of receiving your letter, we must either correct the error or explain to you why we believe the bill is correct.

While we investigate whether there has been an error:

- We cannot try to collect the amount in question or report you as delinquent on that amount.
- The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount.

- While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.
- We can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit.

After we finish our investigation, one of two things will happen:

- If we made a mistake: You will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or other fees related to that amount.
- If we do not believe there was a mistake: You will have to pay the amount in question, along with applicable interest and fees. We will send you a statement of the amount you owe and the date payment is due. We may then report you as delinquent if you do not pay the amount we think you owe.

If you receive our explanation but still believe your bill is incorrect, you must write to us within 10 days telling us that you still refuse to pay. If you do so, we cannot report you as delinquent without also reporting that you are questioning your bill. We must tell you the name of anyone to whom we reported you as delinquent, and we must inform those organizations when the matter has been settled between us.

If we do not follow all of the rules above, you do not have to pay the first $50 of the amount you question, even if your bill is correct.
